3rd-4th November 2019

Hilton Mumbai International Airport Hotel

Organized by

In Association with

IADVL Maharashtra (Mumbai Chapter)
& IADVL Maharashtra Academy

Foreword

Dear friends and colleagues,

Nail unit diseases have traditionally been a relatively neglected subject in Dermatology. Nail Society of India (NSI) is a body trying to increase the efficiency of dermatologists in the management of nail unit diseases. As a part of these efforts, NSI has been holding annual national scientific conferences 'ONYCHOCON'. ONYCHOCON has earned a reputation of a niche scientific meet that discusses in detail fine nuances of diagnosis and management of nail unit diseases.

ONYCHOCON 2019, the 8th Annual Conference of Nail Society of India (NSI), is being organized in Mumbai on the 3rd & 4th of November 2019 with support from IADVL Maharashtra (Mumbai Chapter). As the organizing chairperson, I cordially invite you to be part of this scientific feast which has a confirmed participation of international and national stalwarts in the subject.

Our team looks forward to welcoming you and we assure a rewarding experience for you.

Regards,

Dr. Sushil Tahlilani

8th National Conference of the Nail Society of India (NSI)

Your host City - MUMBAI

The current city of Mumbai was originally a group of not seven, but twenty-three islands. Like doctors, urban planners of Mumbai have 'stitched' these islands together with reclamation over three centuries!
